Chicaso. Ills. Jan. 20.—Before a crowd of baseball fans that filled the United Chates district court and apread into corridors and balconics outside the Federal league today opened its anti-trust suit against the three highest bodies of organised baseball. The principal point of attack in the opening address of Keene H. Addington was the power of the National commission, which the Federal league attorney described as judicial, executive and legendary from Nottinganian and National leagues and the National commission maintain relations with the minor leagues, were cited to show the extent of that power.

Some of the best knowns leaders of the professional game were among transless.

Washingten, D. C., Jan. 20.—John La Cutright, American tenders are consulted on a statement today by secretary of state Beyan, because a letter written by Mr. Cutright and published in an Omaha paper "continued expressions of opinion in regard to the war." A record Tuesday from Nottingham and Mr. Cutright had been informed by the major and other city officials that he consult and the cutent of that power.

Deserthes Weapons Available.
Addington declared the National agreement provided a series of weapons for use against the "enemies of organized baseball," among whom it placed, he said, any persons who went against its rules. The first weapon, he said, was the national agreement itself, used to keep in line the parties to it; the second was the rule regarding territorial rights, which was intended mainly for use against onemies operating from within, though it was used also against the Federal league; the third was found in the rules regarding contracts; the fourth in the alleged "black list." and the fifth styling as "outlaws" and "contract lumpers" its opponents.

U. S. ASKS INFORMATION

ABOUT SHIP'S SEIZURE Washington, D. C., Jan. 28.—The state department has requested from the British embassy information as to why the American Steamer Green Brier. why the American Statisty offen British from New York to Bremen, Germany, with cotton under certificate of the British consul at New York, was stopped by a British cruiser, sent under the British fing to a British port and detained there for some time before being allowed to complete her Yoyage to Become ing allowed to complete her voyage to Bremen.

The points upon which the state department wants information are, first, why was it necessary to search the Greeobrier in view of the certificates issued by the British consul at New York; and second, why a neutral merchant vessel was compelled to fower her flag when under ne known rule could she be regarded as prize.

The British ambassador is expected to get a report on the subject from the London foreign office.

Weddings.

Miss Nellie Spellacy and Ben El Rhoades were married Tuesday evening at 6 oclock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr and Mrs. J. C. Savery, sill Arisona street. Rev. father Francis Boy, of the Church of the immaculate Conception, performed the ceromony. The house was attractively decorated with quantities of flowers and ferms. The bride was attired in a gown of white crepe de thine made with a deep satin strile. The skirt was made in three tiers of accordion pleated flounces of crepe de chine, bound with the white satin. Bands of ored pearls and pearl beads extended from the girdle over the shoulders and edged the nets and the long silk net bleeves. Her duly ernament was a pearl lavailier, the gift of the groom. She wore a white lace picture hat trimmed with geld roses and birds of paradise plumes, Her bounder was to bride's roses, tied with inlie streamors. Mas Flerence Sanders was the bridesmail. She wore a lavender silk accordion picated gown, with an old rose colored sattle siralle, and border shout the edge of the skirt. Gold lace carfle trimmed the skewes and as wore a hlack velvet picture but, trimmed with black ostrich dumes and carried pink roses. Ceol thouse, the groom's brother, attended the groom-following the ceremony an informal reception was held. The bride's cake was in the form of a horseshoe. Mr. and Mrs. Rhondes will make their home in El Paso. They were the recipients of many attractive gifts. The star belong the start of th
